P.O. EMPLOYEE
HERE HELD FOR FEDERAL COURT

An employee of the Gettysburg post office was held for the federal district court, Middle district of Pennsylvania, Saturday by U. S. Commissioner Edward B. Bullett on two charges of defrauding the federal government.

The charges were filed and signed by C. E. Moo, York postal inspector, and the defendant, W. Preston Hull, 223 Chambersburg street, appeared voluntarily before the commissioner.

The complaint, signed by Moo, charges that Hull "did convert to his own use moneys coming into his hands in the execution of his employment, and did use in payment of postage and did knowingly sell, cancelled postage stamps."

2 Inspectors Testify

Witnesses at the hearing Saturday included Moo and J. J. McNabb, Harrisburg, also a postal inspector. Mr. Hull was present but did not testify. He was represented by Attorney Donald M. Swope. Bail of $1,000 was furnished for federal court.

The complaint cites two sections of the United States code, the first, a section dealing with misappropriation of postal funds and the second the use of cancelled stamps.

The post office department inspectors testified that an agent went to a window at the post office here with a piece of fourth class mail matter, on which they alleged that Hull charged 50 cents but affixed only 45 cents in stamps on the package.

A second alleged offense testified to was that Hull used a 25-cent stamp, on a fourth class package, which had previously been marked and "planted" by the inspectors. This stamp, the witnesses said, was a cancelled stamp.

Used Marked Stamp

Inspectors testified that they marked the 25-cent stamp and placed it on a table adjacent to the parcel post window where the defendant worked. They further testified that Hull took the cancelled stamp, affixed it to the parcel, and pocketed the 25 cents.

The complaint alleges that the offenses took place between December 7 and 15.

Hotel Gettysburg Employees
Receive Gifts And Checks
At Traditional Xmas Party

Two veteran employees of the Hotel Gettysburg became members of the 20-year club and received gold wrist watches, a third joined the 15-year club, and five joined the 5-year club at the annual Christmas party of the hotel held in the main dining room Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The room was attractively decorated in holly, Christmas greens and a brightly lighted Christmas tree. Howard Gale's Troubadours, with Sandra Lee as the vocalist, furnished music for the festive occasion. A sumptuous turkey and ham dinner with a wide variety of side dishes were served from the most recently developed and newly acquired copper buffet service, specially heated by a new smokeless and odorless preparation.

The new service includes a large urn, vegetable chafing dish, two buffet servers and gravy bowl. A new stainless steel Toastermaster roll and food warmer was at the end of the decorated buffet tables.

100 Guests Present

Henry M. Scharf, president of the Hotel Gettysburg company and manager of the hotel, was the host and toastmaster.

After the approximately 100 guests assembled in the dining room and children of the employees sang "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells," accompanied by the Troubadours. During the dinner the musicians played Christmas music and several guests were prevailed upon to sing impromptu selections. They were Mrs. Scharf, her daughter, Elise, and Dave Jones. Fred Hughes played a piano selection.

The new "club" members include: 20 years, Mrs. Margaret Toomey, housekeeper, and Hugh Craig, room clerk; 15 years, Lawrence Smith, bellman; Mrs. Bessie Sharpe, hostess; Allan Sprankle, chef, and Robert Roberts, bell captain, were introduced as "nearings" the 20-year goal, each having joined the 15-year club a few years ago; 5 years, Miss Jane Applier, room clerk; William Small, night clerk; Virginia Clapp, saddle, Rita Martin and Dorothy Bigham, waitresses.

All the "club" employees received special gifts in addition to the traditional Christmas gifts and checks presented each year to every employee of the hotel. The children guests at Sunday evening's party were each presented with red and green stockings filled with Christmas treats.

James Codori, North Stratton street, entertained with feats of magic.

An innovation was introduced at the party by Mr. Scharf to illustrate the financial operation of the hotel and to emphasize the importance and significance of each department of the institution in the ultimate attainment of an efficient inn catering to the public.

Using one thousand silver dollars, specially secured from the Federal Reserve bank, Philadelphia, as representative of the annual income of the hotel, Mr. Scharf outlined the breakdown of that revenue into component parts.

"Assuming that 1,000 silver dollars represents our annual revenue, this is how it is expended," said Mr. Scharf.

"This revenue is derived from the following sources:

"$302 comes from the sale of rooms because the traveling public comes here to find good clean rooms, clean linen and all the other essentials to make up a first class hotel. All the employees concerned with the comfort of our guests are directly responsible for this source of income.

"$500 comes from the sale of food because the traveling public wants good quality food, well prepared, well served. Our kitchen staff and dining room employees are credited with making this service possible.

"$80 comes from the sale of beverages: $25 from cigars, cigarettes, newsstands, etc.; $8 from our newest department, our parking lot; $23 from coin locks; $12 from telephone service; and $50 from rentals. (Please Turn to Page 7)

JACOB A. STOCK
EXPIRES SUNDAY OF INFIRMITIES

Jacob A. Stock, 96, one of Gettysburg's oldest residents, died Sunday afternoon at 12:20 o'clock at his home, 38 North Washington street. Death was due to infirmities of age.

He was a shoemaker for 65 years, making thousands of pairs during his lifetime. College students and members of the college faculty were for years among his customers for handmade shoes, made directly to the measurements of the wearers' feet.

He enjoyed long walks and sometimes took jaunts of 40 or more miles at a time until he reached his nineties. He had many fine hunting dogs and was frequently seen hunting during earlier years. Sometimes starting early in the morning during hunting season, he would walk to the South Mountains, hunt through the day and walk home after dark.

Lived Here All His Life

At 75 he made a trip to Europe, visiting his father's home at Aushaffensburg, in Germany, and met relatives there. On that trip he also visited in France, Belgium and Italy, where he had an audience with the Pope.

A son of the late Jacob A. and Fannie Wisler Stock, he was born in Gettysburg and resided here throughout his life. His father came to Gettysburg after completing military service in Germany and as a wheelwright, was employed in the carriage making business here.

When Jacob A. Stock was about 10 years old, he heard the first shots fired in the battle of Gettysburg. He and his family fled their home on South Washington street, near the Warner hospital site. When they returned after the Battle of Gettysburg, they found their home had been occupied by Confederate sharpshooters and had been under heavy fire from Union soldiers.

On September 21, 1944, when he was 90, he was taken to the Warner hospital for an emergency appendicitis operation. It was his first illness in 80 years, and he was the oldest person, up to that time, to have been operated on at the hospital for a ruptured appendix. He spent three weeks at the hospital and recovered completely.

However, after the operation, he cut his walks to shorter length and then following a hernia operation about three years ago, he remained confined to his home.

Services Wednesday

He attended the Gettysburg schools and was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church here. His wife, Mary Catherine McMaster, died January 19, 1908.

Surviving are the following children: Miss Rose M. Stock, at home; Mrs. Dora Habenicht, Washington, D. C.; Bernard J. Stock, Gettysburg, and James Stock, Lebanon. Also surviving are eight grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

P.O. EMPLOYE HERE HELD FOR FEDERAL COURT

An employee of the Gettysburg post office was held for the federal district court, Middle district of Pennsylvania, Saturday by U. S. Commissioner Edward B. Bullett on two charges of defrauding the federal government.

The charges were filed and signed by C. E. Moo, York postal inspector, and the defendant, W. Preston Hull, 223 Chambersburg street, appeared voluntarily before the commissioner.

The complaint, signed by Moo, charges that Hull "did convert to his own use moneys coming into his hands in the execution of his employment, and did use in payment of postage and did knowingly sell, cancelled postage stamps."

2 Inspectors Testify

Witnesses at the hearing Saturday included Moo and J. J. McNabb, Harrisburg, also a postal inspector. Mr. Hull was present but did not testify. He was represented by Attorney Donald M. Swope. Bail of $1,000 was furnished for federal court.

The complaint cites two sections of the United States code, the first, a section dealing with misappropriation of postal funds and the second the use of cancelled stamps.

The post office department inspectors testified that an agent went to a window at the post office here with a piece of fourth class mail matter, on which they alleged that Hull charged 50 cents but affixed only 45 cents in stamps on the package.

A second alleged offense testified to was that Hull used a 25-cent stamp, on a fourth class package, which had previously been marked and "planted" by the inspectors. This stamp, the witnesses said, was a cancelled stamp.

Used Marked Stamp

Inspectors testified that they marked the 25-cent stamp and placed it on a table adjacent to the parcel post window where the defendant worked. They further testified that Hull took the cancelled stamp, affixed it to the parcel, and pocketed the 25 cents.

The complaint alleges that the offenses took place between December 7 and 15.

James B. Aumen Felicitated On 77th Birthday, Saturday

James B. Aumen, president of the Gettysburg fire company, and active for many years in community and fraternal affairs, celebrated his 77th birthday Saturday at his home at 65 West Middle street.

There was no formal celebration, this being left for the family dinner on Christmas day, but Mr. Aumen was the recipient of more than 100 birthday cards from his many friends. A large number of them came from officers and members of the fire company. There were also several bouquets of flowers.

On Saturday, and again on Sunday, Mr. Aumen received many callers.

"Jim" was born in Germany township in 1872. He came to Gettysburg with his parents in 1885, when he saddle, Rita Martin and Dorothy Bigham, waitresses.

All the "club" employees received special gifts in addition to the traditional Christmas gifts and checks presented each year to every employee of the hotel. The children guests at Sunday evening's party were each presented with red and green stockings filled with Christmas treats.

James Codori, North Stratton street, entertained with feats of magic.

An innovation was introduced at the party by Mr. Scharf to illustrate the financial operation of the hotel and to emphasize the importance and significance of each department of the institution in the ultimate attainment of an efficient inn catering to the public.

Using one thousand silver dollars, specially secured from the Federal Reserve bank, Philadelphia, as representative of the annual income of the hotel, Mr. Scharf outlined the breakdown of that revenue into component parts.

"Assuming that 1,000 silver dollars represents our annual revenue, this is how it is expended," said Mr. Scharf.

"This revenue is derived from the following sources:

"$302 comes from the sale of rooms because the traveling public comes here to find good clean rooms, clean linen and all the other essentials to make up a first class hotel. All the employees concerned with the comfort of our guests are directly responsible for this source of income.

"$500 comes from the sale of food because the traveling public wants good quality food, well prepared, well served. Our kitchen staff and dining room employees are credited with making this service possible.

"$80 comes from the sale of beverages: $25 from cigars, cigarettes, newspapers, etc.; $8 from our newest department, our parking lot; $23 from coin locks; $12 from telephone service; and $50 from rentals. (Please Turn to Page 7)

Nature in the life and death struggle for forest space.

When it comes to selecting a Christmas tree, most Americans have as many individual likes and dislikes as they have in motor cars or hats. Color, limb strength, shape, compactness, fragrance, an ability to retain needles, and, of course, price are factors.

Best seller on the Christmas tree market today is the balsam fir, a product of New England and Northeastern United States. About six and one-half million of these are sold in an average year. Douglas firs, products of the Pacific Coast, are the second most popular. Black spruce, red cedar and white spruce follow in that order. Together these make up 83 per cent of all Christmas trees sold in the United States. Scotch pine, Southern pine, red spruce, Virginia pine, white fir, Norway spruce, hemlock, cypress, juniper and Engelman spruce also are marketed in commercial quantities.

Historians disagree over how and when this Christmas tree business started in America. Homesick Hessian soldiers, brought over from Germany by the British to fight George Washington's Continental Army, probably introduced the custom. Another German, the sixteenth century religious leader Martin Luther, generally is credited with originating the custom of decorating Christmas trees with lights. Nothing how snowflakes on the boughs of evergreen trees reflected moonlight, Martin Luther determined to capture the same effect in his home by placing lighted candles on the tree. The idea spread through the centuries.

BANG'S DISEASE CONTROL NEARER

Harrisburg, Dec. 17 (AP)—A new program, designed to wipe out Bang's disease among Pennsylvania cattle, goes into effect January 2.

"Our new program may prove to be the beginning of the end of brucellosis (Bang's disease) in Pennsylvania," said Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary.

Horst said the principal new features of the control program are: 1. Free vaccination of all calves 6 to 8 months of age with the state supplying the vaccine and services of accredited veterinarians. Free vaccine will be supplied for use on animals of other ages.

2. A new provision whereby herd owners may retain diseased animals under strict quarantine other than in a disease-free area. However, the diseased animals must be disposed of within a period of three years following acceptance of the plan without indemnity payments.

Another provision eliminates reactors in a county when its rate of infection is reduced to two per cent or less. "These additions now bring the Pennsylvania control program in conformity with the national program," Horst said.

Says Care Pays Off On Sex Offenders

Harrisburg, Dec. 19 (AP)—Extra care in releasing sex offenders has paid off with the lowest violation rate of all parolees, says the state Parole Board.

"We simply don't turn loose ones we think are potential offenders," said Board Chairman Henry C. Hill. Hill pointed to the parole board record showing that only 58 of the 399 cases involving sex offenders closed out by the board in the past two years were returned to prison for violations.

And only four per cent of those returned were convicted of new crimes. Ten per cent were recommended for violation of parole, Hill said. The parole chief said this indicated sex offenders get extra supervision when placed on parole and are not likely to repeat their crimes.

U. S. Attorney Arthur A. McGuire, who described the cases as the "most serious of their nature to be brought to our attention," said the list contained names of three Jermyn brothers whose alleged total take from the Veterans' Administration was $1,700.

The informations filed today brought the total to 91 filed in Federal court here since November 14.

Taipei, Formosa, Dec. 19 (AP)—Kunming, important World War II U. S. base, was recaptured today by Chinese Nationalists, the fugitive Nationalist government announced here.

The government said its 26th Army seized the large South China city from defecting provincial troops who took it over as the Nationalist government fled here from Chengtu. Li Mi, Nationalist commander at Kunming, was released at the airport. He had been there by soldiers of turncoat Gen. Lu Han, governor of Yunnan province.

Lu and his troops hurriedly fled westward along the Burma road. Nationalist planes strafed them inflicting heavy casualties, the government said.

The Kunming victory was reported as official circles buzzed with stories the Nationalists would counter British recognition of Red China by severing relations with Great Britain.

As the report was circulated, police strove to keep order before the British consulate. Chinese by the hundreds clamored for visas to enter British Hong Kong and a haven from what many consider an impending Communist attack on this island.

FAKE DIPLOMA RACKET PROBED

Philadelphia, Dec. 19 (AP)—Pennsylvania is going to try to stamp out the fake diploma racket.

The state action followed arrest of Daniel J. McDevitt, Philadelphia, on charges of cheating by fraudulent pretense, forgery and uttering forged instruments.

The fake diploma racket sets up unqualified people in the practice of medicine and nursing.

Abraham J. Levy, a special deputy state attorney general, said Saturday the "diploma mill" McDevitt allegedly ran sold hundreds of false graduate certificates.

These purported to include faked degrees of doctor of philosophy from Columbia University in New York and doctor of medicine from the Kansas City College of Physicians and Surgeons. They allegedly cost from $100 up.

McDevitt is being held in $2,500 bail.

Everyone who is said to have bought certificates will be investigated in an effort to confiscate the diplomas. Postal inspectors will check whether McDevitt carried on a mail order business, Levy said.

Hamilton Field, Calif., Dec. 19 (AP)—Bodies of three airmen killed in the crash of an Air Force training plane were to be brought out of the rugged Sierra Nevada today.

The AT-11, missing since Saturday afternoon on a training flight from Hamilton Field, apparently got lost in the heavily-overcast mountains 130 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Gettysburg college's wrestling team bounced back to gain its second victory over a "big name" school Saturday afternoon when the Bullets downed the University of Pennsylvania 17-13 in the feature attraction of the fourth annual coaches' clinic at Cheltenham high school.

The triumph gave the locals a record of two wins against one reverse. Previously Gettysburg downed Pitt and lost to powerful Princeton.

The only fall gained by Gettysburg was by Russ Reigel, the undefeated 155-pounder, who tossed Edgerton in 3:41 minutes.

Dick Sassman, 145, put on a thrilling comeback to gain a 9-6 decision over Vaughn after trailing 5-1.

Although still nursing a bruised head when he was forced to default at Princeton, Johnny Loose, 121, easily downed Crowther 9-0.

The match was clinched by "Bud" Diehl, 175, who captained the Bullets, by gaining a 5-4 decision over Captain Gilford.

Coach Clyde Cole appoints captains for each match, the selection being the man who opposes the captain of the opponents.

Jimmy Woods, 136, after suffering a stiff blow to the solar plexus, came back to win over Muldoon, a former University of Chicago grappler, 7-4.

The Bullets will now be idle until January 7 when the first home match will find the locals opposing Haverford.

Ross Sachs took 18th place in forward passing by completing 66 of 140 attempts, eight being intercepted and 15 resulting in touchdowns. His total yardage gained was 1,260.

DELONE MEETS WARRIORS HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Two old athletic rivals, Gettysburg and Delone Catholic high, will get together again Tuesday evening when their cage teams clash on the Warriors' floor.

The Squires, Class A champions of the Harrisburg Diocese, will be gunning for their initial victory.

Waynesboro topped the lower counties 48-28 at Waynesboro and on Friday night the Squires suffered a 43-34 reverse at Hanover.

Jim Witmer, who has succeeded Al Bell as basketball coach at Delone, will probably stick to the same lineup that was used in the first two games. Included will be "Wheaties" Staub, forward, and Bill Livelsberger, guard, both lettermen.

Murren, a guard and letterman, is out of action due to a recent operation.

Coach George Forney's Warriors will be out to snap a two-game losing streak. After polishing off Westminster, the locals dropped a 28-25 decision at York and then lost a thriller to St. Francis Prep 42-40.

In each game the Warriors gave good accounts of themselves and definitely showed Friday they were an improved group despite losing to a good St. Francis team.

Chester Cornwell's performance against St. Francis may result in more action for the lanky lad as his height is sorely needed.

At 6:45 o'clock the jayvees, beaten in all three starts, will meet the Delone scrubs who have divided in two previous contests.

Following Tuesday's game the Warriors will meet the fast improving an unbateen York high aggregation here Thursday night.

BROWNS EMPLOY PSYCHOLOGIST

St. Louis, Dec. 19 (AP)—The owners of the St. Louis Browns, willing to try anything to improve the club's position, have come up with a psychologist.

He is Dr. David F. Tracy, of New York—author, lecturer and specialist in psychological problems.

Dr. Tracy convinced President Bill Dewitt that he can do things toward building the players' confidence and boosting their morale.

He has been hired for four weeks of the 1950 spring baseball training season.

The psychologist will have a free hand at the Burbank, Calif., training base in his efforts to install a spirit of confidence in the players. He also will concentrate on teaching them how to relax and overcome tension.

"After I teach the players emotional stability," Dr. Tracy told Dewitt, "they will automatically climb higher in the league race. With my treatments, the club should finish fifth and may even climb to fourth."

EAGLES RETAIN LEAGUE TITLE; DOWN RAMS 14-0

Los Angeles, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles are still champions of the National Football League.

And Steve Van Buren is a terrific back, even in the mud. But NFL head Bert Bell will never win a sports popularity contest in these parts.

Those items stand out today in the wake of a crushing 14-0 victory by the Eagles over Los Angeles Rams in the coliseum yesterday. What was billed as a high-scoring duel between two speed-burning, pass-happy teams turned into a slow-moving tug-of-war between two lines, with the Eagles far the better.

The teams sparred through the first quarter, but the Eagles broke loose early in the second. Quarterback Tommy Thompson tossed two passes to left end Jack Ferrante—the second of which he caught on the ground after it was deflected. Thompson mixed in tries at the line, then rifled one to all-pro end right end Pete Pihos for 31 yards and a touchdown. In the thrust, the Eagles went 63 yards in six plays.

Block Punt

The second score came four minutes after the third started. The Rams were on their 10, set back by a holding penalty, when end Leo Skladany broke through to block Bob Waterfield's punt, pick up the ball on the three and trot across. A high pass from center was a contributing factor. Cliff Patton converted both scores.

So bad was the weather that the managements of both eastern and western division winners were willing to postpone the playoff until Christmas. But Commissioner Bell, in his home in Philadelphia, said no.

Although he didn't figure in either of the scores, Van Buren, the Eagles' all-pro back, gave as great a running exhibition as the coliseum has seen.

The one-time Louisiana State star carried the ball 31 times for a net 196 yards, breaking the single-game record of 159 yards in 10 tries set by Elmer Gansman when his Chicago Cardinals beat Philadelphia for the title in the 1947 playoff.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The baseball rules-makers, who tried so hard last week to find a way to curb "take out" plays at second base, found one dissenter in 80-year-old Jack Doyle.

Jack, the oldest active scout in the business, was known as "dashing Jack" when he played ball because of his base running ability.

"You can't pass a rule about that," Doyle proclaimed. "It's a part of the game to try to break up those double plays. Even if a fellow is out, he can't hold up once he has committed himself to a slide. He'll hurt himself that way."

It's just good, aggressive baseball and that's what the players and fans like. Doyle listened patiently while Umpire Bill Summers explained the Rules committee's idea was to stop unnecessary sliding or running into a fielder who was nowhere near the base.

"Well, I guess you'd call that interference," Jack conceded. "But I think young fellows like rough, aggressive games. That's why so many of them are playing football instead of baseball."

KITTY BAR THE DOOR

Lynn Patrick, the Rangers coach, took his 3½ year old son, Craig, to see a hockey game the other night.

It was his first, and when Lynn rejoined his family after a close and close and exciting game, he asked the youngster if he had seen daddy at the garden.

"Yes, daddy," replied Craig. "You open and close the gate."

NAPOLÉON SHOULD KNOW

The National Basketball association has just issued a "directive" to officials telling them how to get to Waterloo, Iowa.

It says, roughly, to take a train to Tama, Iowa, go to "a nearby feed store" and ask for Mr. Soandso, a farmer who'll gladly drive them 40 miles to Waterloo for six bucks ($10 for two) and a free ticket to the game.

Who said the battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton?

Claude Harmon Is Winner At Havana

Havana, Dec. 19 (AP)—You won't find Claude Harmon's name among the nation's top 25 golf pro money-winners of 1949, but the Mararoneck, N. Y., swinger hauled off the biggest purse today in the Havana invitational.

Averaging slightly less than 68 per round, Harmon completed the 72 holes of the Cuban tournament yesterday with a winning total of 271, firing a two-under-par 70 for his final round over the Havana country club course.

Chick Harbert, the long-hitting Detroit star, also got around in 70 yesterday and finished two strokes behind Harmon.

Los Angeles, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams—who can use it after what the Eagles did to them yesterday—may soon get some comic relief.

Bing Crosby and Bob Hope will soon become part owners of the club—roughly 10 per cent each—as soon as the documents are drawn up and signed. While President Dan Reeves of the Rams declined comment, a spokesman close to the actors said the deal was cooked and ready to serve.

State College, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—Coach Joe Bedenk today hailed the anticipated influx of freshman on the main campus next year as a great break for Penn State football teams.

"All athletic teams, football included, have been handicapped by the lack of time in which to get sophomores ready for varsity competition," Bedenk said.

(By The Associated Press)

The Minneapolis Lakers today were back on top of the National Basketball Association's merry Central division chase.

The Lakers edged the Boston Celtics, 77 to 72, last night to replace the Chicago Stags who lost and plunged to fourth place. Syracuse whipped Chicago, 86 to 73.

Miami, Fla., Dec. 19 (AP)—When Herman Hickman of Yale gets his Northern team assembled for the Shrine's annual North-South college football game December 26 it will include eight players from Pennsylvania. Hickman, together with eight Northern players, are due here today. Other members of the Northern squad will arrive tomorrow and the six Notre Dame members early next week.

Bethlehem, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—This steel city of 65,000 comes mighty close to being the football capital of the United States. Bethlehem has placed a native son on the Associated Press All-America team in each of the past three seasons. And in the season just completed 44 Bethlehem boys played for 17 colleges throughout the nation, including a varsity performer on Notre Dame's national championship team.

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—An appellate court has upheld the conviction on morals charges of beautiful Mrs. Nancy Fletcher Chorem and two other women Mrs. Chorem, 27, daughter of C. Paul Fletcher, American general at Casablanca, and wife of a wealthy cotton broker, was convicted last year of loitering for the purpose of prostitution. Madehne Blavier, 30, was convicted on the same charge, and Margaret Starr, 30, was found guilty of abetting Miss Blavier in an immoral act. All three denied the charges. They received suspended sentences.

Lew Forsham, Oakmont, Pa., covered the course in a snappy 63, good for a 276 total and fourth place.

Seek Ruling On Pro Griddler's Contract

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Attorney James J. Laughlin went to Federal court today to ask a ruling on whether a pro football contract and its reserve clause are legal.

Laughlin contends that his client, Ralph Ruthstrom, a former Washington Redskins player, was deprived of his right to earn a living because the Redskins would not release him in 1947.

The attorney said Ruthstrom is suing the Redskins for $4,100 which he claims is owed to him. Laughlin said the legality of Ruthstrom's contract is involved in the claim.

Says Care Pays Off On Sex Offenders

Harrisburg, Dec. 19 (AP)—Extra care in releasing sex offenders has paid off with the lowest violation rate of all parolees, says the state Parole Board.

"We simply don't turn loose ones we think are potential offenders," said Board Chairman Henry C. Hill.

Hill pointed to the parole board record showing that only 58 of the 399 cases involving sex offenders closed out by the board in the past two years were returned to prison for violations.

And only four per cent of those returned were convicted of new crimes. Ten per cent were recommended for violation of parole, Hill said. The parole chief said this indicated sex offenders get extra supervision when placed on parole and are not likely to repeat their crimes.

REDS CHASED FROM KUNMING

Taipei, Formosa, Dec. 19 (AP)—Kunming, important World War II U. S. base, was recaptured today by Chinese Nationalists, the fugitive Nationalist government announced here.

The government said its 26th Army seized the large South China city from defecting provincial troops who took it over as the Nationalist government fled here from Chengtu.

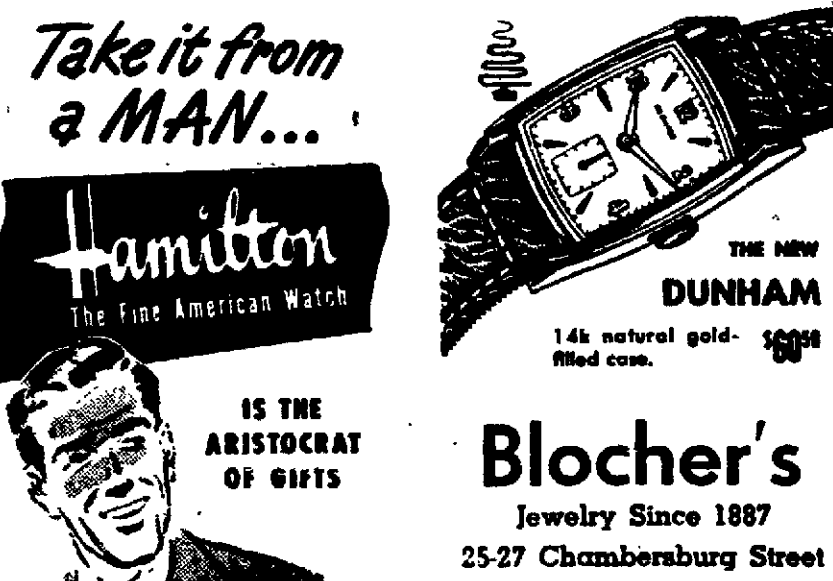

Li Mi, Nationalist commander at Kunming, was released at the airport. He had been there by soldiers of turncoat Gen. Lu Han, governor of Yunnan province.

Lu and his troops hurriedly fled westward along the Burma road. Nationalist planes strafed them inflicting heavy casualties, the government said.

The Kunming victory was reported as official circles buzzed with stories the Nationalists would counter British recognition of Red China by severing relations with Great Britain.

As the report was circulated, police strove to keep order before the British consulate. Chinese by the hundreds clamored for visas to enter British Hong Kong and a haven from what many consider an impending Communist attack on this island.

Paris, Dec. 19 (AP)—Eight persons, one an American, died last night in the crash of a Belgian Sabena Airlines plane. The twin-engine Airliner missed a crowded movie theater by only a few hundred yards as it ploughed into a cottage adjoining Le Bourget Airport.

Four of the dead were passengers. Four—all Belgians—were crew. Airline officials identified the American passenger as Foster White, 31, of Hartford, Conn., an executive of the United Aircraft Export Corporation.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 19 (AP)—A 29-year old automobile stunt driver knew he was taking his life in his hands during a week-end safety demonstration. "The cars have to hit perfectly square or it is very dangerous," said Henry Neaman just before he took part in a scheduled head-on auto crash on Duquesne way. Less than an hour later Neaman was dead.

STOCKS TILT UP

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Stocks jogged along today in a market that tilted to the upside. There was little activity in the major groups of a pronounced nature. Price changes were mostly in fractions, around here and there gains of around a point were shown. On the downside, no change of any significance marketwise was more than a fraction.

Died: On Wednesday evening, very suddenly, Mr. Quintin Armstrong, of this borough, aged about 57 years. He had just returned on that day from Georgetown and was sitting at the supper table with his family, when, without any premonitory symptom, he fell back in his chair, and uttering a single groan, expired almost instantly. His loss will be deeply felt by his friends. He was a generous, noblehearted man, and kind husband and obliging friend, and with an exemplary member of the Church of Christ.

On Saturday, Mr. —Neff, of this borough.

We are not Abolitionists, says the Lancaster Tribune, and we have no sympathies with them, but we are heartily sick of hearing threats of dissolution thrown out by the South, whenever the North vindicates her principles or asserts her rights. The North has no deeper stake in the perpetuity of the Union than the South; yet it would be madness in either to withdraw from the bond of fellowship which was cemented by the blood of a common ancestry, and which has raised us from a weak and struggling colony to a giant nation.

Charlie Ross—His Abductors Shot: The mystery of the abduction of little Charlie Ross has been partially cleared up by a most tragic incident. The two men who kidnapped him both lie cold in death. They were shot while in the act of committing a burglary in the village of Bay Ridge, Long Island, on Sunday night. Judge Van Brunt, into whose house they were trying to force themselves, fired a revolver with fatal effect, killing a professional burglar, named Mosier instantly, and mortally wounding another named Clark. The latter lived long enough to confess that he and Mosier had carried off the little boy.

New York, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Mosier has been found, but denies all knowledge of the Ross child. The detectives are still at work.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

HE WHO INSPIRES

In my early life I worked for a number of "bosses," but the best one, and one from whom I learned most, was the one who believed in me most. He was a man of few words, and if he had any criticism to make, he did it kindly and in a constructive manner. He inspired me to do the best that was in me.

I have a few friends that I make a point to see frequently because of the way they inspire me. I like one because of his love of books, and we compare notes. I see another because of his rare good judgment and common sense, and we talk about affairs in general. And then I have those with whom it is a delight to be because of their buoyant spirit.

It is revealing to study the managers and coaches of baseball clubs and football teams. Often it is the coach who inspires his team to play in a superior, unbeatable style. The season that just closed brought this out. It was this quality of inspired leadership that made the late General Patton the great General that he was.

There was a teacher in the college that I attended whom every student loved because he inspired every one of us to the extent that we could hardly wait to get into his classroom. I have an idea that the late William Lyon (Billy) Phelps was that kind of a teacher. And what an influence such a one has!

There is a Y.M.C.A. Summer camp at Westport, New York, that has served several thousands of boys for half a century, and which until lately was fathered by Chief H. C. Beckman. I have never come in contact with a man who so inspired young boys to render the best that is in them. There are today thousands of those boys, now men, scattered all over the world, many in big jobs and still living the ideals nurtured at this useful camp.

He, who inspires others, inspires himself as well, because he gets cooperation. This is notable in great business organizations, where there is an all-out respect for those in the management. People who inspire always get willing followers.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Magic Things."

GARDENS CAN BE BEAUTIFUL IN WINTER TOO

Gardens can be as beautiful in winter as at any other season, although in a different way, says Alfred Putz in the New York Herald Tribune. There is a pleasant aspect to neatly protected plants.

During the early part of winter, shrubs and trees bearing berries or fruits will add a special feature until the birds have eaten them. That may be a reminder to put up several bird feeding stations positions easily observed from a convenient window but not too close to the house.

Place them where the food supply can be easily replenished. To serve their full purpose they should be filled daily with a supply just short of a day's consumption. They are most inviting in the vicinity of shrubs and trees which give the birds a feeling of security and permit a gradual approach.

Planting for Winter Beauty
It does not take evergreens exclusively to make an interesting winter garden. There is beauty and inspiration in the framework of deciduous trees and shrubs. When covered with a slight deposit of soft snow they present a veritable fairyland.

If your planting includes kinds with colored twigs such as striped maple, green-twig dogwood, Scotch broom, kerria, coral dogwood, redosier dogwood, tamarisk, goldenrod dogwood and Forsythia fortunei, the effect will be even more interesting. Yet there is beauty in the various shades of brown and black of the others.

Snow on deciduous shrubs and trees seldom is a menace unless it is very wet and there are chances that it will freeze. On evergreens, on the other hand, heavy snow is a hazard. It easily overloads the branches and causes them to drop. When this occurs, brush it off or the branches may become permanently dislocated. Usually several years are required before the damage is outgrown and some plants never recover from it.

Ice is even more dangerous than light snow and a wet snow left in place when the temperature is on the downgrade may have serious consequences. The weight of the ice will cause even substantial branches to splinter. A few sharp knocks with a stick or pole will bring much of it crashing down, relieving the burden.

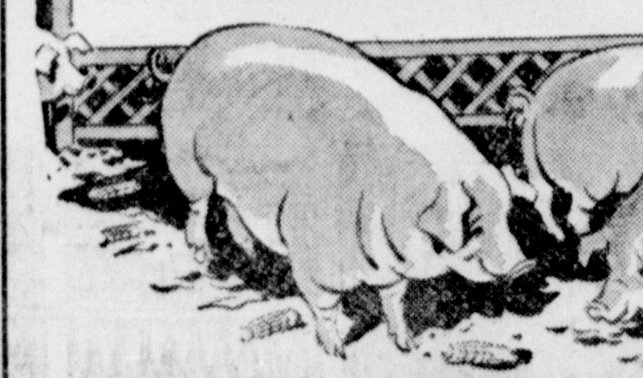

Chore of Opening Paths
Opening up paths and walks becomes a chore after every snowfall. This, too, calls for good judgment. Obviously no one will be anxious to move snow farther than necessary and that is where the trouble comes in. There is no harm in piling it up on the lawn but it never should be placed on the lower branches of deciduous shrubs or evergreens. It is best not to pile it on top of the perennial or bulb bed even though the gardener may think that its addition should make

GROW FOOD IN IDLE FENCE ROWS

On the average 160-acre farm there is slightly more than two acres of land lying idle in fence rows. Here, in many instances, weeds and brush detract from the farm's appearance. Here among unsightly rubbish crop insect pests find shelter and plant diseases lodge on host plants. Keeping fence rows presentable requires many hours of labor each year. These are but a few of the main items on the debit side of the fence row ledger.

But let's look at the potential credit side. Land in most fence rows is the richest on the farm—rested after decades of idleness and deepened with years of accumulating a better winter cover.

There may be cases where a path over the lawn must be opened up. Where this has to be done never remove the snow down to the grass but retain a two-inch layer of snow to prevent serious injury to the sod.

De-icing walks with salt or commercial preparations can do serious harm to your lawn or shrubs wherever the preparations seep into the soil. Not until the salt has been leached out again will it be possible to re-establish the turf. Sand or ashes give a better grip and they do not harm plants.

Occasionally inspect the winter plant covers to make sure they have not become dislodged. Also look after the hardy climbers. Long, loose canes taking a beating from the wind need to be tied securely or they may have to be removed next spring because of the damage they suffered.

organic matter. The areas are easily accessible along highways, lanes and sides of fields. Because of its mellowness the soil is usually well drained. If fences are constructed of old-fashioned rails, laid worm-wise, there may be as much as 4 to 5 acres of fence row land idle on a 160-acre farm, and in this case is likely to be even richer after the longer idleness.

What can be grown profitably and practically in fence rows? First, of course, are tree fruits and nuts. Seldom is any fertilization necessary to start fruit trees—apples, pears, plums, cherries, peaches, and quinces—toward a vigorous bearing life in fence rows. For this planting task, soil should be prepared before winter to permit early March planting.

Likewise black walnuts, shell-bark and shag-bark hickorynuts, chestnuts, butternuts, and hazelnuts are produced profitably in typical loams found in most fence rows. Pecan and English walnut trees may be tried on a small scale in sheltered places.

All bramble fruits—raspberries, dewberries, blackberries, and Boysenberries—find ideal soils and sites in the well drained and deeply mellow loams of fence rows. And the same can be said for currants and gooseberries in states where laws do not prohibit the growing of these two fruits. And if the soil is sufficiently acid or is rendered so, fence rows are excellent places for improved blueberries.

Little imagination or ingenuity is required to see that grapes fit well into the fence row picture, especially where there is woven or other type of wire fence to furnish vine supports.

But fence row utilization for food crops need not end with fruits and nuts. Numerous vegetables may be grown there. Perhaps first on this list is rhubarb. Southern and eastern exposures are preferable for this crop, while the deep, fertile loam common to old fence rows brings to rhubarb the environment needed for heavy production and a long bearing life.

The same can be expected from growing pole beans, both snap and Lima varieties, along fences. Cucurbit crops—cucumbers, squashes, pumpkins, catalogues, and water-melons—are at home in the well drained, mellow, rich loams of fence areas.

Last summer the editor visited a farm where the owner had wisely located his asparagus bed along an old fence. The results in terms of crop quantity and quality were but slightly less than amazing. In fact, almost all vegetables do well in such sites.

For strictly revenue crops, perhaps bramble fruits, blueberries, nuts, rhubarb, peaches, cherries, and apples are best adapted for utilizing idle fence rows. But there need be no close drawing of lines, no hard-and-fast limitations on efforts to

MYSTERY OF MESTROVIC'S EXILE SOLVED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The mystery of the voluntary exile in America of Ivan Mestrovic, world famous Yugoslav sculptor who has been playing diplomatic tick-tack-toe with an anxious Marshal Tito, has ceased to be a mystery.

The dynamic Mestrovic, who now is head of the Department of Sculpture in Syracuse university, came down to New York city and we got together for a long talk in which he "told all."

Tito has been sending frequent emissaries to Mestrovic—the most recent within a few days—urging the sculptor to return home. Why? What does the two-fisted Tito want with an artist who is opposed to Communism?

Puts It Differently

In order to get the full significance of Tito's move you must know Mestrovic. This striking personality is the bearded prototype of the Yugoslav patriot who always has battled for liberty. Indeed Mestrovic was widely known in his country as a patriot before he achieved fame as a sculptor, in token of which he was thrown into prison by Hitler's minions after the Nazi invasion of Yugoslavia during the world war.

In short, Mestrovic is one of Yugoslavia's great men whose name is honored in every home in the country. Tito is battling mighty Moscow for the life of his regime, and he needs the support of folk like Mestrovic.

The sculptor puts it a little differently. He says he doesn't believe Tito means him any personal harm. Mestrovic does recognize that his return home would in effect be placing the stamp of approval on the Communist government and he thinks this is what Tito has in mind.

Must Be Some Changes Made

The idea is supported in a dispatch from Istanbul, Turkey. An American source there states that Tito is trying to come to terms with Yugoslav exiles to help him convince the United States and Britain that he can be trusted in his fight with Moscow.

However, Mestrovic has no intention of going home until religious and political freedoms are restored in Yugoslavia. And in his mind the oppression is symbolized by the case of Archbishop Alojzije Stepanic, head of the Roman Catholic church in Yugoslavia, who in 1946 was convicted by a People's court of sponsoring an organization of terrorists and was sentenced to 16 years in prison where he now is. This case stirred the whole civilized world at the time.

Stepanic and Mestrovic have been great friends for years. So strong is the bond between these two that the sculptor is making the release of the archbishop a requisite of compliance with Tito's pressing invitations to return home. Mestrovic speaks firmly, though without heat, regarding the situation.

"I have no prejudice against Tito," he told me, "nor do I wish to harm the interests of my country."

Clergyman Guilty Of Wife's Murder

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—The Rev. George P. Hetenyi, 40-year-old Episcopal clergyman, was found guilty Friday of second degree murder in the shooting of his wife.

Following the discovery of her body in the Genesee river on April 23, he was charged with first degree murder.

The clergyman has steadfastly maintained he was innocent. Monroe County Judge Daniel J. O'Mara set Jan. 16 for sentencing. The maximum sentence for second degree murder is 20 years to life.

Hetenyi showed no emotion as he heard the verdict. A Monroe county jury returned the verdict after more than seven hours deliberation. The case went to the jury of 10 men and two women.

which commands my love and loyalty as much as Tito's. My sole intention is to illustrate the case of a just man and the errors of People's courts.

"When Tito was heading the Partisans in their epic struggle against the Nazi invaders and their supporters he had the sympathies of Stepanic and of myself. These sympathies ceased when he imposed his form of rule on the country.

"Not everything that Tito and his Communists are doing in our country can be termed as bad. In fact their achievements in the reconstruction of a devastated land and in its rapid industrialization are truly remarkable. However, the freedom of conscience and the respect of human dignity, which the people claim, do not exist at present. My sympathies are with Tito even now when he has taken a stand against Moscow in defense of the independence of the country."

So the next move is up to Marshal Tito—the release of Archbishop Stepanic.

PENN STATE IS ATTACKED BY FARM GROUP

Harrisburg, Dec. 19 (AP)—A statewide farm group struck out today at what it termed a "lagging" agricultural program at the Pennsylvania State College.

The state Council of Farm Organizations at the same time called upon the college's board of trustees to assume and carry out its responsibilities to the taxpayers.

The action was taken at the council's annual convention on Friday after a delegate charged that the college no longer performs many of the functions vested in it as a land grant college.

Mrs. C. W. Waldron, Malvern R. 2 declared also that the agricultural research program at the college is "inadequate."

The council also passed resolutions urging that all agricultural freshmen be admitted to the main campus next year, and that immediate action be taken to name a college president. James Milholland, of Pittsburgh, has been serving as acting president since the death of the late Ralph D. Hetzel two years ago.

Want Fresh On Campus

The resolution urging return of agricultural freshmen to the main campus hit at a college practice since 1946 of sending freshmen to area freshman centers to relieve congestion on the main campus. The college announced recently, however, that about 1,250 freshmen would be returned to the campus in 1950.

Mrs. Waldron launched her attack on the college's agricultural program after Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the college's school of agriculture, reported that Penn State ranks 47th in the nation in per capita expenditures of non-federal funds for agricultural research.

Jackson pointed out that the Commonwealth ranks 17th in the country in total agricultural research expenditures. He said a total of $717,069 was spent in 1948 for experimental station work.

U. S. Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of Allentown, cautioned farmers that "farm subsidies ultimately will destroy their heritage of freedom and lock them under tight planting and marketing controls."

The council re-elected M. Reed Welch, of Burgettstown, as president, and renamed B. H. Welty, Waynesboro, vice president, and Joab Mahood, Troy, secretary.

Mount's Top Cow Presents Twins

Mount St. Mary's college at Emmitsburg, has recently celebrated the arrival of twins. Beach Springs Della, top cow in the herd which supplies the Mount with milk, delivered the twins, Marmount Princess Jean and Marmount Princess Jane on November 19, and although the cow is not yet on full feed, she is milking over 65 pounds a day.

The sire, through artificial insemination, was Rolling Knoll Pony Posch. There are two other daughters in the herd, and William Keltz, farm superintendent, hopes the four heifers will form the nucleus of the Mount's pure-bred herd. Mr. Keltz is an agricultural college graduate and is applying his knowledge to an intensive campaign to increase the farm's productive capacity.

Harrisburg, Dec. 19 (AP)—A New Jersey salesman was killed and a Dauphin county deputy sheriff was seriously injured Friday in an automobile collision on Route 22 four miles east of Harrisburg. He was taken to a hospital here.

MYSTERY OF MESTROVIC'S EXILE SOLVED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The mystery of the voluntary exile in America of Ivan Mestrovic, world famous Yugoslav sculptor who has been playing diplomatic tick-tack-toe with an anxious Marshal Tito, has ceased to be a mystery.

The dynamic Mestrovic, who now is head of the Department of Sculpture in Syracuse university, came down to New York city and we got together for a long talk in which he "told all."

Tito has been sending frequent emissaries to Mestrovic—the most recent within a few days—urging the sculptor to return home. Why? What does the two-fisted Tito want with an artist who is opposed to Communism?

Puts It Differently

In order to get the full significance of Tito's move you must know Mestrovic. This striking personality is the bearded prototype of the Yugoslav patriot who always has battled for liberty. Indeed Mestrovic was widely known in his country as a patriot before he achieved fame as a sculptor, in token of which he was thrown into prison by Hitler's minions after the Nazi invasion of Yugoslavia during the world war.

In short, Mestrovic is one of Yugoslavia's great men whose name is honored in every home in the country. Tito is battling mighty Moscow for the life of his regime, and he needs the support of folk like Mestrovic.

The sculptor puts it a little differently. He says he doesn't believe Tito means him any personal harm. Mestrovic does recognize that his return home would in effect be placing the stamp of approval on the Communist government and he thinks this is what Tito has in mind.

Must Be Some Changes Made

When Tito is supported in a patch from Istanbul, Turkey. An untried source there states that Tito is trying to come to terms with Yugoslav exiles to help him convince the United States and Britain that he can be trusted in his fight with Moscow.

However, Mestrovic has no intention of going home until religious and political freedoms are restored in Yugoslavia. And in his mind the oppression is symbolized by the case of Archbishop Alojzije Stepanic, head of the Roman Catholic church in Yugoslavia, who in 1946 was convicted by a People's court of sponsoring an organization of terrorists and was sentenced to 16 years in prison where he now is. This case stirred the whole civilized world at the time.

Stepanic and Mestrovic have been great friends for years. So strong is the bond between these two that the sculptor is making the release of the archbishop a requisite of compliance with Tito's pressing invitations to return home. Mestrovic speaks firmly, though without heat, regarding the situation.

"I have no prejudice against Tito," he told me, "nor do I wish to harm the interests of my country."

Clergyman Guilty Of Wife's Murder

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—The Rev. George P. Hetenyi, 40-year-old Episcopal clergyman, was found guilty Friday of second degree murder in the shooting of his wife.

Following the discovery of her body in the Genesee river on April 23, he was charged with first degree murder.

The clergyman has steadfastly maintained he was innocent. Monroe County Judge Daniel J. O'Mara set Jan. 16 for sentencing. The maximum sentence for second degree murder is 20 years to life.

Hetenyi showed no emotion as he heard the verdict. A Monroe county jury returned the verdict after more than seven hours deliberation. The case went to the jury of 10 men and two women.

which commands my love and loyalty as much as Tito's. My sole intention is to illustrate the case of a just man and the errors of People's courts.

"When Tito was heading the Partisans in their epic struggle against the Nazi invaders and their supporters he had the sympathies of Stepanic and of myself. These sympathies ceased when he imposed his form of rule on the country.

"Not everything that Tito and his Communists are doing in our country can be termed as bad. In fact their achievements in the reconstruction of a devastated land and in its rapid industrialization are truly remarkable. However, the freedom of conscience and the respect of human dignity, which the people claim, do not exist at present. My sympathies are with Tito even now when he has taken a stand against Moscow in defense of the independence of the country."

So the next move is up to Marshal Tito—the release of Archbishop Stepanic.

PENN STATE IS ATTACKED BY FARM GROUP

Harrisburg, Dec. 19 (AP)—A statewide farm group struck out today at what it termed a "lagging" agricultural program at the Pennsylvania State college.

The state Council of Farm Organizations at the same time called upon the college's board of trustees to assume and carry out its responsibilities to the taxpayers.

The action was taken at the council's annual convention on Friday after a delegate charged that the college no longer performs many of the functions vested in it as a land grant college.

Mrs. C. W. Waldron, Malvern R. 2, declared also that the agricultural research program at the college is "inadequate."

The council also passed resolutions urging that all agricultural freshmen be admitted to the main campus next year, and that immediate action be taken to name a college president. James Milholland, of Pittsburgh, has been serving as acting president since the death of the late Ralph D. Hetzel two years ago.

Want Frosh On Campus

The resolution urging return of agricultural freshmen to the main campus hit at a college practice since 1946 of sending freshmen to area freshman centers to relieve congestion on the main campus. The college announced recently, however, that about 1,250 freshmen would be returned to the campus in 1950.

Mrs. Waldron launched her attack on the college's agricultural program after Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the college's school of agriculture, reported that Penn State ranks 47th in the nation in per capita expenditures of non-federal funds for agricultural research.

Jackson pointed out that the Commonwealth ranks 17th in the country in total agricultural research expenditures. He said a total of $717,069 was spent in 1948 for experimental station work.

U. S. Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of Allentown, cautioned farmers that "farm subsidies ultimately will destroy their heritage of freedom and lock them under tight planting and marketing controls."

The council re-elected M. Reed Welch, of Burgettstown, as president, and renamed B. H. Welty, Waynesboro, vice president, and Joab Mahood, Troy, secretary.

Mount's Top Cow Presents Twins

Mount St. Mary's college at Emmitsburg, has recently celebrated the arrival of twins. Beach Springs Della, top cow in the herd which supplies the Mount with milk, delivered the twins, Marmount Princess Jean and Marmount Princess Jane on November 19, and although the cow is not yet on full feed, she is milking over 65 pounds a day. The sire, through artificial insemination, was Rolling Knoll Pony Posch.

There are two other daughters in the herd, and William Keltz, farm superintendent, hopes the four heifers will form the nucleus of the Mount's pure-bred herd. Mr. Keltz is an agricultural college graduate and is applying his knowledge to an intensive campaign to increase the farm's productive capacity.

State police identified the victim as Albert T. Doherty, 57, of Haddon Heights, N. J. Deputy Sheriff Orbia S. Mumma, 52, Harrisburg, suffered fractures of the skull and left arm. Santa MAGICIAN AND THE

ALL THREE CLIMBED STEADILY INTO THE BLUE

Chapter 13
MR. DILLY TRIES SOME TRICKS

Santa, with Mr. Dilly and Henry close behind him, ran into the barns where the flying reindeer were kept. "We'll fly away on the deer," said Santa puffing and panting. "Then we can decide what to do next."

"Where are the deer?" cried Mr. Dilly. "It's so dark in here I can't see them."

"Henry, light the lamps," ordered Santa.

Quickly the boy obeyed. Santa and Mr. Dilly and Henry each took a lantern to the stalls and peered in. There were no reindeer. Instead eight little gum drops, green and orange and yellow, lay in the straw.

"Oh, my!" gasped Santa. "I can't think what has happened. I can't understand why my magic wand caused this terrible thing."

Henry dropped his head. He had to tell Santa what had happened. "It's all my fault," he whispered so low Santa could scarcely hear him. "Why, boy?" exclaimed Santa in surprise.

"No, no!" cried Mr. Dilly in a loud voice. "It's all my fault!"

"Why, man?" cried Santa, more surprised than ever.

Then Mr. Dilly and Henry told Santa how they had taken his wand in the woods to learn how to get a rabbit out of Mr. Dilly's hat. They told how they had lost the wand and the Wiggle Wagglies found it and gave Henry their evil wand in its place.

"And that's the wand you have now," finished Henry. "That's the reason it cursed our friends instead of the Wiggle Wagglies."

For a long time Santa sat thinking. Finally he said, "I do not dare use this wand again for who knows what evil it might cause. But, anyway, the Wiggle Wagglies will never have it again!"

With that he broke the stick over and over across his knee until it was in a dozen pieces and of no use to anyone.

"Now," he said, "We must get back my wand and all will be well."

"I'll go after it!" cried Henry. "I'll get it some way. They won't fool me again."

"No," said Santa. "Next time they get you will be the end of you for they mean to destroy us all."

At that very instant they heard the whooping and howling of the Wiggle Wagglies as the wicked creatures raced to the barns.

For the first time Santa seemed truly worried. "Only magic can save us," he murmured.

Mr. Dilly flung up his hands. "Merciful day! I had forgotten I was a magician. I have a thousand magic tricks! Come let's hurry outside."

They ran out behind the barn. "What trick could you possibly know that would save us?" asked Santa.

"I must think," said Mr. Dilly. His chin sank on his chest as he thought and thought. All the time the Wiggle Wagglies came closer on the far side of the barn. You could almost hear them breathe as Mr. Dilly quietly thought over every trick he'd known in all his life as a magician.

Suddenly Zepp appeared around the corner of the barn.

"Too late," whispered Santa sadly.

A hundred Wiggle Wagglies joined Zepp and pushed around the corner. "Too late!" they echoed gleefully.

But Mr. Dilly raised his head. So quickly that no eye could follow his hand, he yanked a rope from his pocket and flung one end into the air.

"It's the magic rope trick," he shouted. "Follow me!"

Santa looked and Henry looked and even the Wiggle Wagglies stopped to look. Mr. Dilly's rope was standing straight up on the ground and Mr. Dilly was climbing the rope.

In an instant Santa and Henry followed and all three climbed steadily into the blue. In the next moment the Wiggle Wagglies had recovered from their astonishment but when they raced to the rope it really was too late—this time too late for them: Santa had pulled the end of the rope up after him and the Wiggle Wagglies could never reach it.

Meantime the other end of the rope rose as far as the eye could see. Mr. Dilly, Santa and Henry climbed for hours. When they were too tired to go on Mr. Dilly tied the rope into rings and they all three sat down in midair to rest.

Mr. Dilly said Santa. "This is one of the finest tricks I've ever seen. You are a great magician."

"Well," Henry reminded them abruptly. "We got away that time but what do we do now?"

Farm Income Down In Most Sections

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Farmers have made only 90 cents this year on crops and livestock where they made a dollar in 1948, the agriculture department reports.

And from January through October, farm income was down in every state except Florida, New Mexico and Delaware.

Iowa topped all states in cash receipts from farm marketings during the 10 months and midwest states, as usual, comprised most of the first 10 in farm income.

Farm income, a department survey says, is running about 10 per cent below 1948. November and December returns aren't expected to brighten the picture.

New York had the 11th biggest gain over last year with $708,267,000, with Pennsylvania next with $649,888,000.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

by Susan

Quiz No. 7

How much does it cost to advertise a package of America's nationally known breakfast foods? Is it 2¢? 3¢ a package?

Answer: It costs less than 3/10¢ a package to advertise America's leading cereals.

That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times that 3/10¢ a package.

GLIDDEN TOUR MEMBER, DIES

W. Emmert Swigart, 66-year-old banker and insurance executive, and widely-known collector of old automobiles, died Saturday at his home in Huntingdon, Pa., of a heart attack. He had been in ill health for more than a month. Funeral services were held today at Huntingdon.

A native of Huntingdon, Mr. Swigart developed his hobby of collecting old automobiles after going into the insurance business. One of his two sons has been active with him in this hobby. Mr. Swigart had 125 old cars, many more than 45 years old. He also had what is believed to be the world's largest group of auto license plates and auto emblems. Hundreds of persons visited Huntingdon annually to see his collections. A small museum housed part of them. He came to Gettysburg and participated in the start of the Glidden tour last fall. At the time of his death, Mr. Swigart was president of the National Association of General Insurance Agents. In 1946 he was president of the National Association of Insurance Agents.

His wife, two sons, who are associated with him in the insurance business, John and William Swigart, and a daughter, Mrs. Glenn Weikert, whose husband was formerly from Gettysburg, survive him. Mr. Weikert

Donald Stevens, Hanover, told police he was driving east on Third street when the girl suddenly "dashed" into the right side of his car. The impact, police learned threw the girl backwards between two parked cars.

PATIENT THUG

Pittsburgh, Dec. 19 (AP)—A well-dressed man waited patiently at the end of a line at the Art Cinema theater on Liberty avenue the other night. When he reached the ticket window, he pointed a revolver at the cashier, who handed over $75. The man disappeared into the crowd.
